

Website Privacy Policy

This website www.bqfoundation.org.uk (the “Website”) is operated by B&Q Foundation, a charity and company limited by guarantee, registered in England and Wales (company number 11868617, charity number 1183275), whose registered address is B&Q House, Chestnut Avenue, Chandler’s Ford, Eastleigh, SO53 3LE (the “Foundation”, “we”, “us” or “our”).

The Foundation is part of the Kingfisher group of companies.

1. Important information and who we are

The Foundation is the controller of your personal data. This is a legal term – it means that we make decisions about how and why we use your personal data and, because of this, we are responsible for making sure it is used in accordance with data protection laws.

2. What is this document?

We respect your privacy and are committed to protecting your personal data. This privacy policy (the “Policy”) will inform users of our Website, and individuals who make donations to the Foundation, apply for grants from the Foundation or otherwise interact with us (referred to as (“you” or “your”) how we look after your personal data.

Once you choose to provide us with any information by which you can be identified, then you can be assured that it will only be used in accordance with this Policy.

If you have any questions about this Policy please contact the B&Q Foundation Manager using the details set out in paragraph 12 below.

Our websites and social media pages may include links to third-party websites, plug-ins and applications. Clicking on those links or enabling those connections may allow third parties to collect or share data about you. We do not control these third-party websites. When you leave our websites or social media pages, we encourage you to read the privacy notice of every website you visit.

Note that we may process your personal data for more than one lawful ground depending on the specific purpose for which we are using your data.

Please note that where we have indicated in the above table that our processing of your personal data is either:

- necessary for us to comply with a legal obligation; or
- necessary for us to take steps, at your request, to potentially enter into our contract with you, or to perform it, and you choose not to provide the relevant personal data to us, we may not be able to continue our relationship with you.

We may also convert your personal data into statistical or aggregated form to better protect your privacy, or so that you are not identified or identifiable from it.

Anonymised data cannot be linked back to you. We may use it to conduct research and analysis, including to produce statistical research and reports. For example, to help us understand how many of our total workforce number are on secondments at any given time.

5. Who do we share your personal data with, and why?

Sometimes we need to disclose your personal data to other people.

The Kingfisher group

We will need to share your personal data with companies in the Kingfisher group as part of our regular reporting activities on company performance, in the context of a business reorganisation or group restructuring exercise, for system maintenance support and hosting of data and to provide legal and audit services.

Where any Kingfisher group companies process your personal data on our behalf (as our processor), we will make sure that they have appropriate security standards in place to make sure your personal data is protected and we will enter into a written contract imposing appropriate security standards on them.

Access rights between members of the Kingfisher group are limited and granted only on a need to know basis, depending on job functions and roles.

Outside the Kingfisher group

From time to time we may ask third parties to carry out certain business functions for us, such as the administration of our IT support. These third parties will process your personal data on our behalf (as our processor). We will disclose your personal data to these parties so that they can perform those functions. Before we disclose your personal data to other people, we will make sure that they have appropriate security standards in place to make sure your personal data is protected and we will enter into a written contract imposing appropriate security standards on them. Examples of these third party service providers include service providers and/or sub-contractors, such as our outsourced IT systems software and maintenance, back up, and server hosting providers, our courier partner and service providers who provide social media and marketing services.

We may also disclose your information to our appointed third party agents and suppliers in order to process your order. These third parties will only have access to your information in order for them to perform specific tasks related to your order and they may not use it for any other purposes.

In certain circumstances, we will also disclose your personal data to third parties who will receive it as controllers of your personal data in their own right for the purposes set out above, in particular:

- if we transfer, purchase, reorganise, merge or sell any part of our business or the business of a third party, and we disclose or transfer your personal data to the prospective seller, buyer or other third party involved in a business transfer, reorganisation or merger arrangement (and their advisors); and

- if we need to disclose your personal data in order to comply with a legal obligation, to enforce a contract or to protect the rights, property or safety of our employees, customers or others.

We have set out below a list of the categories of recipients with whom we are likely to share your personal data:

- grant management administrators; Neighbourly
- payment providers, including JustGiving, PayPal and Sumup;
- social media providers;
- consultants and professional advisors including auditors, legal advisors and accountants;
- advisors and fraud prevention agencies to provide fraud detection services;
- courts, court-appointed persons/entities, receivers and liquidators;
- business partners and joint ventures;
- trade associations and professional bodies;
- insurers; and
- governmental departments, statutory and regulatory bodies including the Information Commissioner's Office, the police and Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs.

We may also share your personal data with third parties, as directed by you.

6. Where in the world is your personal data transferred to?

If any of our processing activities require your personal data to be transferred outside the UK, we will only make that transfer if:

- the country to which the personal data is to be transferred ensures an adequate level of protection for personal data;
- we have put in place appropriate safeguards to protect your personal data, such as appropriate agreements/additional contractual clauses with the recipient as approved in accordance with the relevant data protection law to protect the personal data transferred outside the UK. (Please contact B&Q Foundation Manager if you wish to obtain a copy of these);
- the transfer is necessary for one of the reasons specified in data protection legislation, such as the performance of a contract between us and you; or
- you explicitly consent to the transfer.

If you require further information about these protective measures, please contact [B&Q Foundation Manager].

7. How long do we keep your personal data for?

We will keep your information whilst you are an active donor or grant recipient of the Foundation and for a limited period after you close your account or the last time you make an order with us, or longer if necessary in connection with both our and your legal rights and obligations. This may mean that we keep some types of personal data for longer than others but we will only retain your personal data for a limited period of time. This will depend on a number of factors, including:

- any laws or regulations that we are required to follow;
- whether we are in a legal or other type of dispute with each other or any third party;
- the type of information that we hold about you; and
- whether we are asked by you or a regulatory authority to keep your personal data for a valid reason.

8. What are your rights in relation to your personal data and how can you exercise them?

You have certain legal rights, which are briefly summarised below, in relation to any personal data about you which we hold.

Your right	What does it mean?	Limitations and conditions of your right
Right of access	Subject to certain conditions, you are entitled to have access to your personal data (this is more commonly known as submitting a “data subject access request”).	If possible, you should specify the type of information you would like to see to ensure that our disclosure is meeting your expectations. We must be able to verify your identity. Your request may not impact the rights and freedoms of other people, e.g. privacy and confidentiality rights of our staff.
Right to data portability	Subject to certain conditions, you are entitled to receive the personal data which you have provided to us and which is processed by us by automated means, in a structured, commonly-used machine readable format.	If you exercise this right, you should specify the type of information you would like to receive (and where we should send it) where possible to ensure that our disclosure is meeting your expectations.

		This right only applies if the processing is based on your consent or on our contract with you and when the processing is carried out by automated means (i.e. not for paper records). It covers only the personal data that has been provided to us by you.
Rights in relation to inaccurate personal or incomplete data	You may challenge the accuracy or completeness of your personal data and have it corrected or completed, as applicable. You have a responsibility to help us to keep your personal data accurate and up to date.	Please always check first whether there are any available self-help tools to correct the personal data we process about you. This right only applies to your own personal data. When exercising this right, please be as specific as possible.
Right to object to or restrict our data processing	Subject to certain conditions, you have the right to object to or ask us to restrict the processing of your personal data.	As stated above, this right applies where our processing of your personal data is necessary for our legitimate interests. You can also object to our processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes.
Right to erasure	Subject to certain conditions, you are entitled to have your personal data erased (also known as the “ right to be forgotten ”), eg where your personal data is no longer needed for the purposes it was collected for, or where the relevant processing is unlawful.	We may not be in a position to erase your personal data, if for example, we need it to (i) comply with a legal obligation, or (ii) exercise or defend legal claims.
Right to withdrawal of consent	As stated above, where our processing of your personal data is based on your consent you have the right to withdraw your consent at any time.	If you withdraw your consent, this will only take effect for future processing.

If you wish to exercise any of your rights please contact B&Q Foundation Manager.

You also have the right to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office, which is the UK data protection regulator. More information can be found on the Information Commissioner's Office website at <https://ico.org.uk/>.

9. How do we keep your personal data secure?

We will take specific steps (as required by applicable data protection laws) to protect your personal data from unlawful or unauthorised processing and accidental loss, destruction or damage. This includes firewalls and access control procedures and deploys organizational (e.g. information is available to other persons only on a need to know basis), and technological measures (e.g. computer passwords), as well as staff training to protect personal data against loss and unauthorized access.

10. Children

The Foundation does not knowingly collect personal data from children under the age of 13. If we learn we have collected or received personal data from a child under the age of 13, we will delete that information. Since information regarding children under the age of 13 is not collected, the Foundation does not knowingly distribute personal data regarding children under the age of 13.

11. Updates to this notice

We may update this notice from time to time to reflect changes to the type of personal data that we process and/or the way in which it is processed. We encourage you to check this notice on a regular basis.

This version was last updated on 25 August 2022.

12. Where can you find out more?
